The 32-year-old former Pussycat Doll turned Got To Dance judge talks baking, bodies and backstage gossip

Where Kimberly's pad, west London

Belated wedding congrats, Kimberly. How did you and your husband Max (Rogers, 31, a model) meet?

On stage at the Clothes Show Live in Birmingham in 2011. He was one of the models and I was singing. We started dating afterwards, going to wrap parties and sightseeing in London, and haven't stopped since.

Aww. What are your fave memories from your big day back in February?

We had a fairy-tale theme, with a cake in the shape of a dragon, and it was the day of my dreams.

Are you happy living in the UK?

Yeah, I feel more at home here than anywhere else in the world. And now Ashley [Roberts, former Pussycat Doll turned TV presenter] is here, too, we get to spend a lot more time together, which is great.

The fifth season of Got To Dance starts on Sky1 soon. What's the gossip?

There have been a few format changes. Aston [Merrygold, ex-JLS member and former judge] has left, but Adam Garcia is back. I do miss Aston - he's a sweet guy with so much going for him - but it's great to have Adam back. He's a good friend, too.

Kimberly is following just six people on Twitter, including @SciencePorn (but has 156,000 followers).

Floristry was her plan B - she is now fully qualified in flower arranging.

Kimberly's first crush was Billie Joe from Green Day.

Not to mention mega-hot! On another note, can you still do the splits?

Yeah! These days, I do hot yoga to keep my muscles supple. Dancing's mainly for pleasure, although I've got a DJ tour coming up, and I do some dancing on that.

We're baking brownies - but we thought you were a health freak?

They're protein brownies. It's nice to find ways to satisfy my sweet tooth, yet stay within a high-protein diet.

Do you have any other guilty pleasures?

Science! I love space, and knowing about different animals being discovered. I'd love to sign up for the Virgin Galactic flight, although it's, like, £146,000.

We hear you enjoy horse riding. Is that from growing up in Missouri?

Lots of my friends were farmers' daughters. We'd get up at 5am, pack lunches, ride through the rivers and fields, get home at 6pm, take off the saddles and ride the horses into the pond.

Sounds bliss! Ashley is your BFF, but what's your relationship like with the other Dolls?

Those girls really taught me a lot about family - hugs and kisses when times were low and celebrations when times were good. F
